Bay of Bengal Resort, Ngwe Saung

Bay of Bengal Resort

Ngwe Saung Beach
Pathein, Myanmar

Description:

The Bay of Bengal Resort sits on a spacious 14.3 acres of land. The Resort is an artistic contemporary interpretation of the traditional and graceful Myanmar style, and the ultra-modern roof styling is specially designed to flood the resort with calming, filtered natural light. It's unique style, unmistakable originality and its true exclusivity marks the Bay of Bengal Resort as a venue like no other. A walk through the gardens is a stroll through a tropical dream. The sound of the waterfall along the passage through the lush greenery, the pulsating rhythm of the sea in the background, and the gentle breezes that constantly brush the gardens create a soothing atmosphere. The lavishly-stocked Reception Bar is a welcome stop over for a sip of a tangy cocktail before continuing on and entering the luxury zone.

Location :

The newly-opened Bay-of-Bengal Resort Hotel snuggles in discrete isolation at the right-hand end of Ngwe Saung Beach, and has own private 1800 feet long beach front. The resort is tucked away and out of sight of other hotels further down the beach, offering the ultimate in private and tranquility that can't be matched elsewhere. When approaching the shore by boat from the sea, the resort is a distinctive landmark that beckons like a beacon. The resort has international kitchens catering for global tastes. An experienced Italian chef oversees the gourmet Italian restaurant, where the finest quality food and cooking par-excellence ensures an enchanting dining experience. The resort's Business Centre provides internet and email to allow guests to stay in touch with home or office, and there is also a small library. The centre has Ngwe Saung Beach's only money exchange service. The Bay of Bengal Resort also offers efficient, friendly room service from 7am to 11pm.

Facilities & Services:

- Swimming pool
- Spa with gym and beauty saloon
- Entertainment club
- Sports & leisure
- Business Center
- Gift Shop

Islands

The charmingly-named Love Island at the opposite end of the beach from the resort is the closest island and its small hill is a perfect alternative venue to view the scintillating sunsets. The wooden tower on the hill gives majestic 360 degree views over the sea and the beach.

Sit back, relax and enjoy the sunset on highest ground in the Nwe Saung region. Sa Khan Island, or Camping Island, can be reached in about an hour in a fishing boat. It is an interesting camping area, populated mainly by the local fishermen and their handmade cooking stools and small huts can be found here. Taung Yar Shay, or Long Island, is about twenty minutes further by boat from Sa Khan. It's a big island, full of caves and a superb location for adventurous travelers. Reaching this exciting cave island by small boats which ply their way through the remains of half submerged caves adds more excitement to the experience. Hours can be spent exploring the caves on the island, and the crystal-clear deep sea is ideal for diving and snorkeling.

Elephant Camp The Elephant Camp is set among tall trees in green bushy land and is a nice stop over on return journey to Yangon. For an unforgettable experience, enjoy an elephant ride along a stream in a picturesque jungle valley. The camp is open from 8am to noon. The Bay of Bengal Resort highlights rich natural light flowing in each of its 62 very comfortable rooms. The resort has 18 Royal Bengal Villas, 14 Bengal Suites, 14 deluxe rooms and 16 superior rooms. All rooms are luxuriously furnished with the finest materials and facilities, and each room has an attached private veranda or balcony. The emphasis throughout the resort is nature-friendly, and the interior décor is simple, unfussy, yet elegantly designed and stylistically modish to the maximum.
